Our Campus

Our campus is one of the most beautiful to be found anywhere. Whether it is during the autumn with the changing leaves or the cold winter months with snow on the ground, there is always something to marvel at. The relaxing atmosphere helps students take a break from the hassles of classes and collect their thoughts.

Remember when the Campus Walk was Campus Drive? It was not until the Fall of 1986 that students could walk across campus without having to dodge a car or two. Now it is hard to imagine cars once drove through the center of campus.

Mrs. Gaye Adegbalola spoke to members of the college community at the Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration. She talked about her experiences growing up during the 1960's in Fredericksburg. At one time, she was not allowed on campus. But, because of King's accomplishments, she is now able to "stand on the grand stage with the seal behind (her)."

During the Leadership week, student leaders attended a session of Go-Getters. One activity was to try crossing from one line to another with only 3 points of contact.

Student Life

LEADERSHIP WEEK

Leadership Week is not all fun and games. August 17, 1987 student leaders returned to campus to get a head start on their work for the upcoming year.

Student government leaders could be found everywhere working to get Freshmen Orientation organized. Student Mentors trained hard in order to acquaint the freshmen with Mary Washington. Resident assistants and Resident directors learned how to deal with the many problems they will face in the dorms.

There was some fun too. Linda Sinram and Daniel Leete led the student leaders through a day of GoGetters. GoGetters is designed to build confidence and encourage cooperation with others through different activities such as the "Flying Carpet" and pyramid building.

Much was accomplished, but not at the exclusion of some fun. Everyone is preparing for another great year at Mary Washington.

Honor Pledge

I, as a student and citizen of Mary Washington College, do hereby resolve to uphold the honor of the college by refraining from giving or receiving academic material in a manner not authorized by the instructor; from the illegal appropriation of the property of others; and from the deliberate falsification of facts. I shall do all in my power at all times to create a spirit of honesty and honor for its own sake both by upholding the Honor System myself and by helping others to do so.

I understand and accept the Honor System and the Honor Constitution. I realize that a plea ignorance will not be accepted by the Honor Council. I further understand that a violation of the Honor Code could result in my expulsion from the college.

New students must recite the Honor Pledge before they sign their cards.

This year graduating seniors and faculty were invited to Convocation for the first time.

SOMETHING NEW AT CONVOCAATION

This year more people witnessed Honor Convocation. For the first time, graduating seniors and faculty were invited to attend the ceremony. Convocation is the time when the final step to becoming a studnet at Mary Washington takes place. President Anderson and the Honor Council president speak on the importance of the Honor System. The Honor Pledge is recited and then the Honor Pledge Cards are signed. And now the members of the freshman class are official members of the college community.

If it were not for the Honor System here at Mary Washington, this school would not be what it is today.

The final step in becoming a student at Mary Washington, signing your honor pledge card.

CLUB CARNIVAL

Every year the clubs on campus are eager to get new members and the gathering of clubs at Club Carnival gives them a chance to actively recruit them. Students are exposed to the diversity of clubs Mary Washington has to offer and can join any they feel would benefit them.

Sponsored by the Inter Club Association, Club Carnival shows students the many ways they can become involved at the school. After attending one carnival, there is no way students can say there is nothing to do at MWC.

Clubs are always looking for new ideas, especially those new members have to offer.

FAMILY WEEKEND

September 19, 1987 brought many parents to Mary Washington. They got to see how a student can transform four bare walls and some furniture into a "home away from home." They also got the chance to meet friends and their families.

Friday night's Talent Show let parents take pride in their son or daughter or learn about the many talents students possess. The event that seems to attract the most people is the Picnic held in Ball Circle.

Everyone found a place, spread out a blanket and enjoyed the good food.

During Family Weekend the Bookstore did a lot of business. After all, the whole family needs a sweatshirt plus some other memorabilia. Hardly anyone leaves without something that says Mary Washington on it.

Now that Mom and Dad were confident their baby would not die at school, they could rest a little easy. (But not too much!)

ROCKTOBER FEST

A WILLARD FIRST

On October 3, Willard Hall held its first annual Rocktober Fest. Despite the inclement weather, the bash was a huge success. People were crowded inside and out as two bands, Not Even and the New Keys, rock and rolled late into the evening. A good time was indeed had by all.

As the weather cleared, people made their way outside for some good food and drink.

AN EW TRADITION

Fall Homecoming

This year marked the beginning of a new tradition. Fall Homecoming. October 10, 1987 brought recent graduates back to Mary Washington to enjoy a day of fun and surprises.

As tours of the campus were conducted, the alumni saw many changes had occurred at MWC since they graduated. The most noticeable being Campus Walk and the Campus Center. They enjoyed a country picnic at lunch accompanied by a bluegrass band. Then the alumni cheered the men's soccer team on as they beat the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets.

The day ended with a Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Student Association and Class Council.

OH WHAT A LADY?!

On October 9, 1987, nine wo-men took to the stage and competed in WO-MAN 1987. The contestants participated in evening gown, swimsuit and talent competitions. The talent competition brought out the best in all the contestants. Phil "Salty Sully" Cronin sang her own version of "In The Navy." Mike "Tittless" Taquino twirled a baton to "I Want Your Sex" and Dave "Poon-Toon" Franke performed a dance from her (??) native country, Korea.

As they strolled down the aisle in their evening gowns, they received many shouts and screams. Trixie, Velvet and Salty Sully were the finalists and when it came time for the decision to be read, all were very nervous. "and the winner is — Bob "Velvet" Noll. Congratulations to all who were brave enough to compete.

HALLOWEENS 1987

On October 31, 1987 the best of Mary Washington College came out of hiding. This year the traditional Halloween party was held in the new Great Hall. Rocking to the beat of a costumed band, the students showed what they were really like! It was a night where one could find everything from Micheline Babies to Pumpkins. The MWC student body had a wild night in making sure that the tradition of Halloween lived up to its name.

The Great Hall was filled to overflowing with the long hidden student of MWC.

Every imaginable character could be found on the dance floor.

YP-SYNC 1987

The Lyp Sync, sponsored by Jefferson and Marshall, was a fun night of entertainment and laughter. The Judds and ZZ Top led the way in showing how to party! Over all the entire night was once again a great success.

Lyp Sync — 1987 sponsored by Jefferson and Marshall dorms brought out the best "talent" at Mary Washington.

All types of music were represented, including Rap. A group of guys were Run-DMC.

BATTLE OF THE BANDS

The second annual Battle of the Bands brought a diverse mix of six bands to the Great Hall. The first act was a mock rock band, Buddhist Priest, followed by two Top Forty bands, Westmoreland and Mixed Emotions. Second runner-up Jim offered an alternative set of acoustical and electrical guitar solos. A popular campus band, Cecil Gupton and the Rabble Rousers won the crowds and the Battle by dishing out some classic rock and roll. The night came to a close with a heavy assault on the senses from Contagious.

Kevin Teirnan of Buddhist Priest belts out another tune. What fantastic hair you all have!

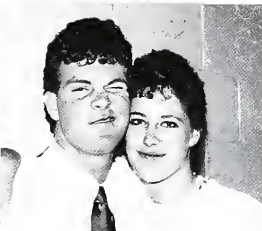

Ali-John's Contagious pleased the headbangers. Now this hair is real!

Even the Freshmen got into the act with their own Westmoreland.

MARTIN LUTHER KING A TRIBUTE

... A DAY FOR LOVE, NOT HATE;
FOR UNDERSTANDING, NOT ANGER,
FOR PEACE, NOT WAR.
—Coretta Scott King

January 18 brought many people from the college and community together in Dodd Auditorium to pay tribute to Martin Luther King, Jr. President Anderson and others from the college reflected on the accomplishments of Dr. King.

Gaye T. Adegbalola, a native of Fredericksburg, talked about growing up in the area during the fight for civil rights. She spoke poignantly about her experiences and captured the attitude of the time when she said,

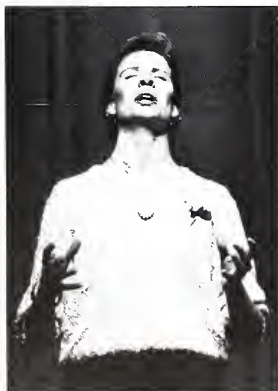

"I was not allowed on the hill unless I was cooking or cleaning for the school." But on this day, she could be seen on the "grand stage" with the seal behind her.

Thanks to the work of Martin Luther King, Jr. and many others, including our own James Farmer, attitudes have changed and dreams come true.

Gaye Adegbalola spoke about her experiences growing up during the Civil Rights Movement in Fredericksburg.

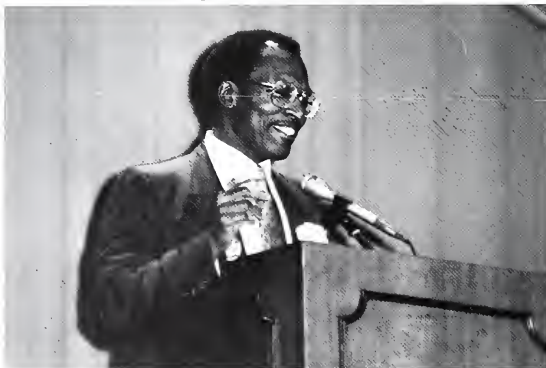

Art Brookes served as em-cee for the event.

Julian Stacy sings a song that conveys the feelings of the day.

Deborah Santiago and other students reflected upon the work of Dr. King.

Tracy Bramlett uses her singing ability to tell how the day makes her feel.

G RILL ON THE H ILL

Marshall's annual Grill on the Hill was yet again a huge success. Four bands — including Headliners, Chapter 11 — kept the crowds pleased throughout the day as did the constant supply of hamburgers and hot dogs. Of course, the BYOB clause helped the students maintain their party mood.

WESTOCK '88

Suprisingly it was a freshman dorm that put on one of the best and most well attended events of the year. Advertised as the first and last annual end of the world party, Westmoreland's Westock included ten musical groups. It was like Mary Washington's own Woodstock festival with tie-dyed t-shirts, hamburgers and cotton candy stands and an audience sprawled out on blankets on Westmoreland Green.

A diverse group of musicians provided entertainment for all: Invaders' heavy metal set, acoustics sets from Bob Zavislak; Jim, Chris and Chris; and Penguins and other Flightless Birds. Even the contraversial Schmovie made an appearance.

Many local bands played throughout the day at Westmoreland's Westock.

The 1987-1988 school year brought a great variety of musical entertainment to the Mary Washington Campus. In addition to the traditional Pub and Great Hall performances, a new tradition of free outdoor concerts was started. In competition with Marshall's Grill on the Hill this year were Westmoreland's Westock and Brent's Hard Rock Cafe along with a few spontaneous jams in the otherwise neglected amphitheatre. Much of this year's entertainment came from groups made of students from here at MWC.

MARY, HOW W E'VE C H·A·N·

Over the years, the face of MaryWashington has changed greatly. Many new buildings have been added, and traditions started and ended as different groups have come and gone. The way you remember Mary Washington may not be the way it is even five years from now. Even the short time we have been here, there have been numerous changes: Campus Walk was once a road, there was no Student Center, nor was there a fountain. When you return to MWC years from now, there will be many different things.

All photographs are from the Special Collection at E. Lee Trinkle Library.

The campus has added many new buildings since this picture was taken about 1939.

Men's Soccer 1987

Wynn Yarbrough (4) gets the ball before his opponent.

"I can jump just as high as the ball bounces."

Sam Salih (3) is thinking, "This is my ball and you can't have it."

Ranjit Sidhu (16) runs down field to catch up with the action.

Todd Spangle (17) coming in to steal the ball from his opponent.

Left: Glenn Smith (12) Charges down the field.

David Lausten (24) keeps the ball away from his opponent.

Their Best Record Yet

Shawn Wilson (11) prepares to head a high ball.

The team prepares for a half time break.

The team had their best record ever recorded by a men's soccer team at MWC. They were ranked nationally throughout the season, finishing at 19 among NCAA Division III colleges. The team was selected, for the second time in the past three years, to participate in the NCAA Division III National Tournament. They lost 2-0 to Bethany College. Key contests included: 1-1 tie with North Carolina Wesleyan, 1-0 (OT) win over Lynchburg, 2-1 win over Virginia Commonwealth University, 4-0 win over Randolph Macon and a 2-0 win over Christopher Newport.

Women's Soccer 1987

Brenda Nix (12) takes aim at the goal box.

Right: Co-Captain, Gretchen Trieble looks upset about what just happened.

"This is not a slam dancing contest!"

Susan Crytzer (9) coming in to replace Gretchen.

The question is "Who's ball is it going to be?"

Tami Vercheck runs down the field to catch some more action.

Becky Alexander (4) gets to the ball before her opponent.

MWC SOCCER MAKES ITSELF KNOWN

Mel Grant (14) assesses the situation down the field.

An attempt to steal the ball away from an opponent.

This year was a year of accomplishments for MWC Women's Soccer. They had their first All-American, Debbie Eicher, a record of 12-5 and they were selected to participate in the East Coast Athletic Association tournament. The team was satisfied with their end of the season rank of 17 in the nation. The only major disappointment came when they did not get a berth in the NCAA tournament. Despite this, they made themselves known as a national power in women's NCAA Division III soccer.

Women's Rugby 1987-88

"Please don't step on our teammate, Diana Schwerha"

THE WINNING TRADITION CONTINUES

The MWC field hockey program has made a tradition of winning. Placing in the regional poll "Top 10" consistently every year. This fall was no exception as the team finished strong with a 12-6-1 record and an eighth place ranking in the regional poll. Among the 12 wins was a 1-0 victory over Salisbury State, the defending National Champions, in the final game of the season. Following that strong win, two players, Stephanie Shupe and Ann Marie Hall, were selected to the Regional All-American Team.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS BOUND

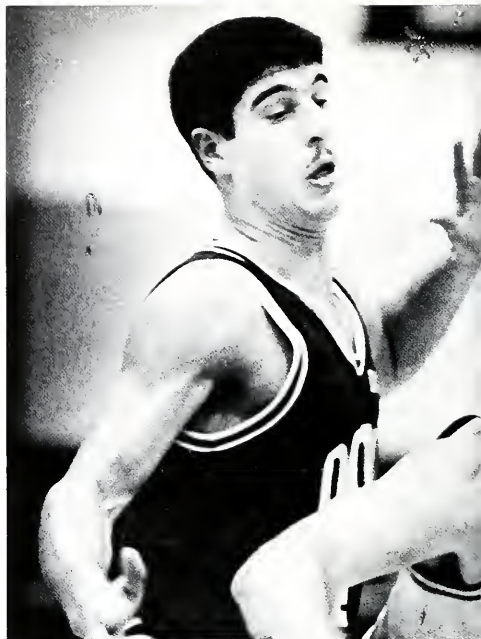

The Fall team completed the season at 15-0 ranking third in the nation. With a lot of hard work and dedication, the team hopes to return to the National Championships again for the seventh time in eight years.

TOO MANY DISAPPOINTING LOSSES

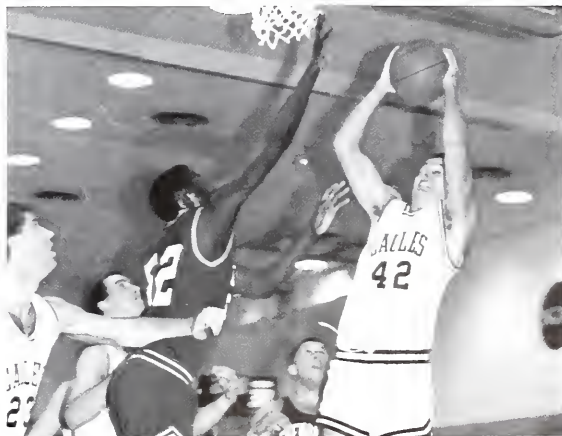

Free Lance Star Photo

The team had four players—Mark Blackwell, John Yurchak, Matt D'ercle and Chip Suter move into the MWC Top 10 Career Scoring list. The team had three straight 1 or 2 point victories decided within eight seconds of the end of the game. A late three game winning streak included an 86-73 victory over Washington and Lee University which was ranked fifth in our region.

This year's season gave us some exciting wins, but it also gave far too many disappointing losses.

"Between the two of us, we have the ball for our team."

"Out of my way, I'm trying to make a basket."

Women's Basketball 1988

Laura Lee Munn takes a shot at the basket.

GREAT TEAM EFFORT FOR A WINNING SEASON

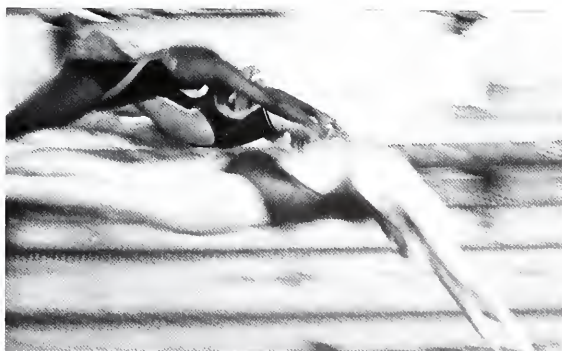

The women's team had the toughest season ever and still managed to break eleven school records. The team won the Atlantic States Swimming Conference Championships and four members qualified for the NCAA Championships.

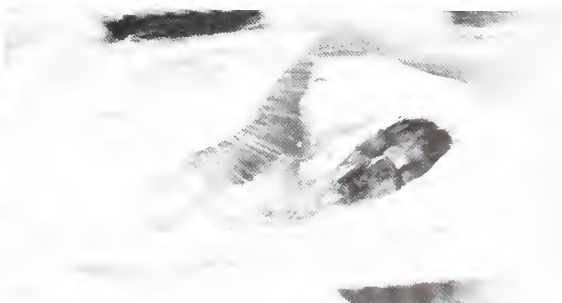

The men's team had their best season ever, breaking fourteen school records and continuing to improve in their ability. They placed third in the Atlantic States Swimming Conference.

Softball 1988

All right, let's strike her out 1-2-3.

This ball isn't getting past me. That was one strike, let's not have any more.

Far Right: This fly ball is an OUT!

"While the fielder runs for the ball, I'll make a dash for the base."

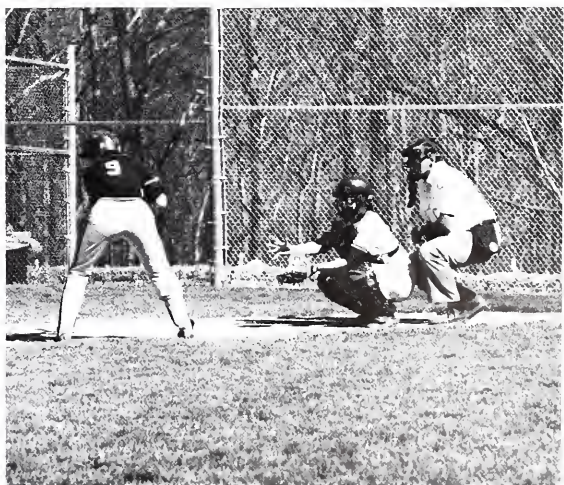

A baseball/softball field was added to the sports facilities at MWC.

ESTABLISHING FOUNDATIONS

Although their record of 11-20 was not what they had hoped for, the women's softball team showed a lot of enthusiasm and was proud of their accomplishments. They established some of the foundations necessary for a strong softball program in the future.

A congratulations from the coach for a play well done.

Baseball 1988

ACHIEVING RESPECTABILITY

This year the baseball team won the Blue-Grey Conference in their first year of competition with an 8-0 record. Against their Division III opponents, their record was 11-7-1. The team as a whole had a batting average of .305 with seven of nine starters hitting .295 or better. The pitchers had strikeout/walk ratio of 3 to 1.

DESPITE MANY INJURIES AN ADMIRABLE SEASON

Despite many injuries which deprived the team of its depth and some of its better athletes, there were still some great performances. Led by Sean Carpenter and Leigh Anne Winston, many team members performed admirably. Sean Carpenter again qualified for NCAA Division III National Championships.

Linda Neuls makes her way around the track.

Men's Lacrosse 1988

Here, let me help you take a nose dive.

Come on guys, help me defend the goal box.

Let me have the ball, I'm open.

No, you cannot put that ball in our goal.

The team rallies together before a game.

Heading to the place where all the action is.

ACCOMPLISHING RESPECT

The team was made up of a group of young, talented players and some older players who were still very inexperienced, all of whom were overachievers. The six wins were games where the team was together in every aspect of the game, especially the win over Radford (7-4). The team this year has made tremendous strides toward becoming a power in Division III Lacrosse.

The ball is up for grabs. Who will get it?

Men's Tennis 1988

Pat Leonard hits the ball just over the net.

Putting on a mean face to serve a mean ball.

You don't have time to scratch your back.

Lester Weigers lunges to return the ball to his opponent.

Sean Timmons takes his turn at the service line.

Tim Richardson serves the ball across court.

OVERCOMING INJURY AND ILLNESS

Come on down here so I can hit you with all my might.

Doubles players shake hands after a well executed play.

The team overcame injury and illness to the top two ranked players to recover to a 7-9 record. Players responded to the pressure of having to compete at places higher than they normally would have. Sean Timmons was out with a sprained ankle and Declan Leonard was out with mononucleosis. The team won their last three matches with everyone showing marked improvement in their play and their approach to the game.

Sports is...

A winning combination for a relay team.

TEAMWORK

Classes

Class of 1988

This past year the Senior Class continued many of the traditions set forth by previous classes. 100th Nite took place in the Great Hall on January 28 and 88th Nite took place at the Safeway on February 9. In addition, the keg was brought back from the grave for both evenings which was a real surprise for all. Other traditions include Carl Rosen, singer-pianist-comedian, and Grad Ball with "Spectrum" which made for two very memorable events.

Some of the new events for the Senior Class were the family weekend talent show, hosted by Mark Pitta; Senior Happy Hour in the Pub; and Barry Drake in the Eagles' Nest.

Class Officers: Cheryl Ellyson, Sec/Tres; Ken Plaia, President; Margarita Abrams, Vice President.

GRADUATION

Class of 1989

Junior Class Officers: Sandra Joyner, Secretary/Treasurer; Chris Bond, Vice-President; Kim Rivenbark, President; Sherri Bradley, Publicity

Junior year is when you start to realize your college years are fast approaching an end and it won't be long before you are facing the problems of the real world. You start to wonder what am I going to do after college?

The big event of the year is receiving your ring in March. However, it is not just handed to you. First you must face the wrath of your fellow students. You may find your room moved or all your clothes gone. The antics of the seniors and sophomores cannot be predicted. Eventually, everything returns to normal and you have lasting memories of your junior year.

"Which one do I want? Juniors deciding on just the right ring.

Every Junior has a decision to make, which ring they want to get, thus beginning the journey to Ring Week. Some call it a "living h---" for Juniors.

Ring Week is a week in March for Juniors when unforgettable practical jokes are played on them by their fellow students. An unsuspecting Junior may find his room has disappeared or all her clothes gone. Some have found their rooms filled with newspaper or hundreds of Dixie cups full of water on their floor.. Anything is possible and there is no way predict just what will happen.

The rings are given out at Ring Presentation and the week ends with a formal Ring Dance. All this makes for lasting memories of Junior year.

RINGS-RINGS-RINGS=

Class of 1990

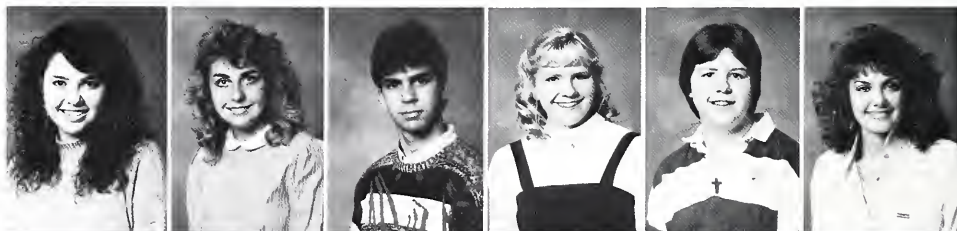

Class Officers 1990: Brooke Fillmore, Publicity; Georgia Heneghan, President; Rich Cooper, Vice President; Andrea Nichols, Sec/Tres.

Sophomore year, the in between year. Sure you get to declare your major in order to register early next year, but nothing really memorable. Old friendships grow stronger and new ones made. In August you look at the new freshman class and wonder if it was only last year that it was you standing there all starry eyed, wondering what in the world is going on.

Sophomore year is a hump year. Once you get on the other side, things start moving really fast. First Ring Week, then Graduation and then it is all over. You will wonder where all the time went. Just hang in there and it will be over before you know it.

Class Of 1991

If I had to think of one word to describe the Class of 1991, that word would have to be UNITY. Coping through the pressures of college: Drop/Add, roommate problems, and grades our worst nightmares never prepared us for, has brought us close together over the course of the year. We have shared each others successes and failures, future dreams and worst fears. We have breathed, slept, and ate together during the week and partied together on the weekends. Halloweens, WCXR in the Pub and the Boat Cruise are but a few of the events we will remember for a lifetime. And we await with anticipation the good times and good friends our next three years together has to offer.

We love you!

Mom, Dad,
Nancy, Diane, and Dennis

For Laura Starbling

"We are called to be the authors of our own existance..."

May your life's book be filled with uncountable pages of happiness, prosperity, peace, enthusiasm, and love --- success will follow of its own accord.

Congratulations, we love you!

Mom, Dad and Jeff

Nancy Bladen-

You get out of life what you put into it and knowing you, we are sure you will get your fair share of good things.

We are proud of you and congratulations on your accomplishments thus far.

Mom, Dad, and Suzanne

PINHEAD-

Congratulations- you made it in FOUR!

Your loving 'rents',

FROM THE PAST TO THE FUTURE – HISTORY IN THE MAKING

One hot August day, you arrived at Mary Washington College. The campus of that day will never be the same.

- No longer are you able to drive up Campus Avenue and unload all your worldly possessions. Now everything must be carried for what seems like miles.

- No longer do you have to risk your life crossing College Avenue to get your mail. Now you just go to the Campus Center.

- No longer are the student offices located in the deep dark corners of the campus. Now they are all partitioned off in a section of the Campus Center.

- The simple things of everyday life on campus have changed, not to mention the new image the school is projecting.

One of the things the administration tried to do in order to improve their image was change the name to Washington - Monroe College. As a matter of fact, several books listing the various colleges proceeded to change the name of the school before anything was decided. Yet, with the help of many student protests, the school retained the dignified name of Mary Washington College.

As the seniors depart, and enter an entirely different world, changes and protests continue. In the fall, the new library will open (hopefully) and the protests over self-scheduling will begin up again. The school as they remember it will never be the same, but it will always be their alma mater, Mary Washington College.

To the 1988 Battlefield Staff:

I would like to personally thank each one of you for working so hard on this book. When it came down to the wire, you were there and did an excellent job. Thank you again for all your help because without you, there would not be a 1988 Battlefield.

RECOGNITION

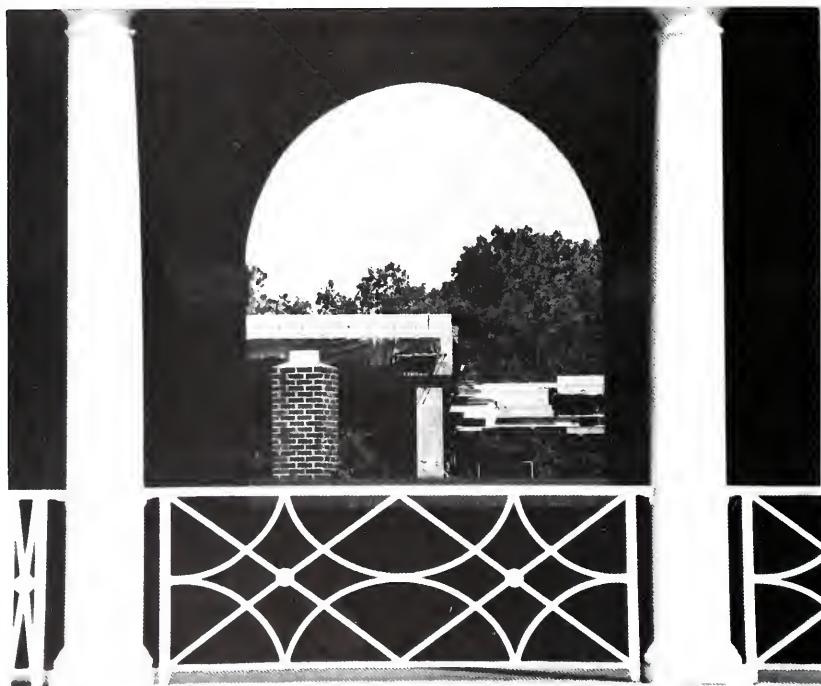

Recognition and a special thank-you go out to Joe Mancuso and Bette Luttrell for all the help they have given in so many ways, Paulette Watson for all her support, and Jay Bradshaw for producing pictures that somehow ended up missing.

A very special thank-you goes out to Jim Ellis, our representative from Hunter Publishing Co., for his support, patience and confidence in us when we had none.

IT'S NOW TIME TO ENTER THE WORLD
AND TELL EVERYONE THAT IT MEANS TO SAY "MY ALMA MATER IS MWC."
